WILL STOP BAD WATER

Something Likely to Be Done About It Today.

Indignant citizens yesterday appealed to Secretary A. L. C. Atkinson for relief from the muddy water now supplied to a great part of the city from Nuuanu reservoir. They protested that to drink it was fatal and to bathe in it was disgusting.

The genial Secretary stated that it was all news to him and, when his attention was called to protests published in the papers, stated that he had no time available to read the papers and consequently had heard nothing of it.

He called up Assistant Superintendent of Public Works Howland and then stated that the latter would see what could be done, though by the present arrangement the Territory was not put to an extra expense of $25 a day, which would be necessary to keep sufficient pumps going to give clean water to consumers.

"Some remedy will be found," said the Secretary, "though I have no proof that the present water is unhealthy. Mr. Howland says the mud is pure and will not and can not cause any disease. Further, it will probably stop tomorrow, not to continue for four or five days."

FINAL WORDS FROM MR. BOND

Editor Advertiser: To you, in view of James C. Beissel's rejoinder to my denial of having been Dr. Hyde's informer in the Damien affair, both of which appear in the Gazette of September 19, I would say that Dr. Hyde's letter of inquiry to me and my reply thereto was the one, only, correspondence that ever passed between Dr. Hyde and myself relative to Father Damien, and that never previous to that time had a word of any sort, either oral or written, passed between us relative to that matter, nor, to the best of my recollection and belief, did I ever introduce the subject to him afterward. Whether this concise and explicit avowal in plain English would penetrate Mr. Beissel's obtuse and unwilling intellect and be accepted by him may seriously be doubted if he were judged by what has already passed. I say to the Gazette of September 20: "Mr. James C. Beissel's accusation of me in your Sunday issues of August 20 and August 27, as having been Dr. Hyde's informer in the Damien affair, was entirely unwarranted," and this, together with what follows, covers everything and should have satisfied any reasonable man. But note his reply: "Now, unless you produce your correspondence with Dr. Hyde on the subject, the community will be left in the dark as to whether he received from you his very first, or his corroborating, information in his false accusations of Father Damien," and in those words he has virtually given me the lie. He has apparently a malicious disposition that wilfully refuses to be convinced. Referring to my statement that I, too, had once labored for a time under the impression that Father Damien was the man who created a disturbance in this district, Mr. Beissel says: "You don't like the public to know this last statement." Now, I don't care one iota who knows it, for neither is an erroneous impression nor a lapse of memory, either temporary or permanent, a sin. But there was no need to load the press with extraneous material. Mr. Beissel has twice intimated that I might have explained Dr. Hyde's "mistaken identity" years ago. Let me say to Mr. Beissel that I did not consider it any of my business to do so. But, having come to the conclusion, in the interests of peace and fairness, after Mr. Beissel himself had furnished clippings on the subject to the Gazette, with lengthy comments of his own, thus reviving the rumpus in this Territory after Dr. Hyde was dead and gone; having concluded, I say, under these circumstances, to pour a little oil on the ruffled waters by a word of explanation, what reward have I for it? Nothing, but continued and insistent aspersion from Mr. Beissel, who, in spite of his cloth, seems to delight in having two men to throw mud at in public, instead of one. Would I not better have kept silent? Referring to my objection to his having given to the public parts of a private letter which were not intended to reach the public, Mr. Beissel says: "Well, it was on the same sheet that you authorized me to publish," etc. Now, I can call the Gazette office and the type-setters to witness that the "aside" was not on the same sheet as the rest of the letter, else my memory has gone terribly astray. The separation was intentional. Does Mr. Beissel treat the "confessions" of his parishioners as he has treated my confidential "aside"? The plain truth is, there need not necessarily have been any "informer" to Dr. Hyde, beyond common, current information of what was going on. Mr. Beissel himself says that the priest really charged with the scandal was tried before the court in Waimea (all this was public), and that, although discharged by the court, he was sent out of the country by the church authorities. That Father Damien was stricken with a fatal disease was also a matter of common knowledge through the press and otherwise. What could have been more easy than for Dr. Hyde, through a slip of memory, to confuse the identities of the two men, especially if there was a similarity in their names? Father Damien was being lauded as a martyr to his voluntary residence in the leper settlement. It may be presumed that Dr. Hyde, having in mind the immoral conduct scandal, but laboring under a mistake as to the identity of the man who was concerned in it, wished to expose what he believed to be a fallacy; and this probably was his sole motive for making the statement which has produced such interminable commotion among Damien's friends. If Dr. Hyde knew what a hopeless task would confront him in any endeavor to correct an error, he acted with eminent wisdom in letting bad enough alone, as Mr. Beissel has certainly given me ample reason to wish that I had done. And if Mr. Beissel, in view of Dr. Hyde's well-known eminence in good work, is willing to exercise but a moiety of the charitable spirit which he claims that Dr. Hyde would have exercised, he will accept this reasonable view of the whole affair and let the subject drop. There can be no pleasure in further burdening your columns and annoying a satisfied public with a profitless discussion with a man whose love for long-drawn controversy seems to be insatiable, and who refuses to accept a straightforward statement in the same spirit in which it was made; but if, in your judgment, it is well to make a final effort to penetrate a thick wall with the bullet of truth, let me once more ask your indulgence with the use of the requisite type and space, and then turn my attention to something more satisfactory.

This remedy is for sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Agents for Hawaii.

VISITORS DESCRIBE THE HOUSE OF FIRE

Volcano House, Hawaii, Sept. 20, 1905. Mr. George Lycurgus, Manager Kilauwa Volcano House.

Dear Sir: The crater of Kilauwa was visited yesterday afternoon by the undersigned, and we wish to state that fire was plainly visible at intervals in the "pit." Starting from the Volcano House at 4:30 p. m., the descent into the crater was made on horseback, and following the guide across the floor of the crater the "corral" was reached at about 6 p. m. Leaving the horses in the corral, we proceeded on foot a short distance until the hot cracks in the floor of the crater were reached, and here coffee was heated with steam from the cracks, while several of the party amused themselves scorching postal cards. Proceeding a short distance farther the edge of the pit was reached. The first view in the pit showed nothing but steam and smoke, but after a short time the smoke cleared away and fire, spouting from a cone on the floor of the pit, was plainly visible. At times what appeared to be red-hot lava could also be seen spouting from the cone and the reflection from the same reached nearly to the top of the pit. The sight was well worth seeing and all felt amply repaid for their trip to the crater. Everything possible has been done for our comfort at the Volcano House, and your efforts to make our visit to the crater of Kilauwa a pleasant one is fully appreciated. Jas. L. McLean, Honolulu; Ralph S. Hosmer, Honolulu; (Mrs. T. G.) Carrie S. Wall, New York City; Edith A. Kelso, Los Angeles, Cal.; W. B. Thomas, Wahiawa; Mrs. W. B. Thomas, Wahiawa; Wm. H. ## FIRE CHIEF THURSTON GOES ABROAD FOR POINTS

CHAS. H. THURSTON, CHIEF OF THE HONOLULU FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Charles H. Thurston, chief of the Honolulu Fire Department, leaves today in the Oceanic steamship Sonoma for the mainland on a three months' leave of absence. His trip to the mainland is primarily to get in touch with the big fire departments in the big cities to study their methods of fire fighting.

This will be the first visit of the chief to the mainland in many years and he feels the need of brushing up on the new systems and methods of conducting a well-equipped department such as even Honolulu possesses. The Board of Fire Underwriters of Honolulu is anxious for the chief to take the trip and is providing him with transportation to and from the Coast.

After reaching San Francisco Chief Thurston will lay out his plans. He will go directly East and will visit his old home in Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. Then he will go to Boston and New York, will take in the fire fighting exhibition at Coney Island, thence to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Chicago, Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles to San Francisco and home again.

During his absence from Honolulu, Assistant Chief Charles Deering will be acting chief of the department. Chief Thurston has been connected with the local department for many years, and since June 15, 1901, has been in command.

EVENING SCHOOL PLANS OF Y. M. C. A.

The educational committee of the Y. M. C. A., consisting of Messrs. Wood of the Normal School, Macintosh of the Royal School, Griffiths of Oahu College, Horne of Kamehameha Schools, and Merrill of Mills Institute, met with Secretary Brown a few days ago and outlined plans for the coming six-month season. Trusting that the Chas. R. Bishop trustees would continue to help, they voted to engage the very best teachers for English, arithmetic, book-keeping, shorthand, typewriting and mechanical drawing. Of last year's faculty two were not open to re-engagement, but Mr. Marshall of the Normal School will continue with English, Mr. Donaghy of the High School with arithmetic and Mr. Howland of Oahu College with bookkeeping. The stenographic department will be kept up to a high standard by a gentleman who has not only taught Pitman's system for years, but who has at the same time done business and law work and made a record for speed. Mechanical drawing will have the attention of the best teacher to be had in town. There will be not less than 46 lessons in each subject for the nominal fee of $1 or $2 to those who pay the $5 fee for a year's membership in the association. It is easy to see that it is a school run for men and not for money.

Keeping Promises

Honolulu Appreciates Always When Promises Are Kept.

Every time you read about Doan's Backache Kidney Pills you are told they cure every form of kidney ill, from backache to urinary disorders. How are our promises kept? Ask any citizen who has tried the treatment. Ask the following Honolulu man. W. J. Maxwell of this town, Truant officer, writes thus: "I suffered with a horrible pain in the small of my back (an almost invariable symptom of kidney trouble) for a number of years. I was advised to take some of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, and following the suggestion I went to the Hollister Drug Co's store, Fort street, and got some of these. Having taken them, they relieved me straight away, and are, I may say, the best and in fact the only cure for backache. I have mentioned the virtue of this wonderful remedy to several persons, among whom is my friend, Mr. Frank Metcalf, who found relief, and he is now a firm believer in Doan's Backache Kidney Pills." Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all chemists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

TRY Paine's Celery Compound TODAY

Take just one dose when you go to face the hard part of the day's trials. See how much better you feel. See how much more easily the trials roll away. Paine's Celery Compound is not a mere stimulant—it gives to the nerves the actual substance that they need for food, building them up and giving them strength. In this way it gives real nerve activity, instead of the false activity imparted by mere stimulants. It is the best and quickest spring tonic. "I had to overwork, being employed night and day for more than a week. I ran down and was very weak. I was so tired that I thought I would never think of work again. A friend recommended Paine's Celery Compound and it certainly did me a world of good. Right AT ONCE I began to feel better, and was able to go back to work in a few days. You would not think to see me that I had ever been sick and run down. I am thankful for the good that Paine's Celery Compound did for me. I am telling my friends." —Daniel Bain, 706 W. 12th St., Chicago.
